INTRODUCTION

The election administration of Georgia is an independent administrative body that – within its competences – acts in accordance with the Constitution of Georgia, Organic Law of Georgia “Election Code of Georgia” and other legislative and/or normative acts.

The supreme body of the election administration is Central Elections Commission (CEC). The CEC – within its powers – ensures conduct of elections in Georgia and controls implementation and uniform application of the electoral legislation of Georgia.

In 2017 the election administration ensured conduct of complex – from organizational and administration point of view – municipal elections – October 21, 2017 Elections of the Representative Body of Municipality – Sakrebulo and Mayor of Self-governing City/Self-governing Community.

During October 21, 2017 municipal elections, the voters elected following officials for four year term:

- Tbilisi Mayor, mayors of four self-governing cities and mayors of 59 self-governing communities
- 50 members of self-governing body – Sakrebulo – for capital Tbilisi. Out of these, 25 members were elected in single mandate electoral districts and 25 members were elected through proportional elections
- 2008 members of 63 Sakrebulo of self-governing communities and self-governing cities (except Tbilisi), including 945 members through proportional elections and 1063 members – through majoritarian system.

1 577 503 voters voted in the first round of the municipal elections - 45.86% of total voters. 109 402 voters participated in the second round – 33.33% of total voters eligible to vote in the second round. The CEC counted and published gender statistics for both rounds. 50.45% of voters voting in October 21, 2017 municipal elections were women. In total, 795 890 women voted in the first round. During the second round, 50.29% of voters were women. In total 55 021 women voted in the second round.

International election observation missions assessed the elections as important electoral progress and one more step forward for the country with regard to democratic consolidation.

According to the international election observation mission<sup>1</sup>:

- The elections were administered in a timely, efficient and professional manner at all levels
- Stakeholders expressed a high level of confidence and trust in the accuracy of voter lists
- The voting process was assessed as good or very good in 97 per cent of polling stations observed

1 Composition of international election observation missions: Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe/Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (OSCE/ODIHR), Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of the Council of Europe. Statement of Preliminary Findings and Conclusions

- The review of complaints at the CEC sessions was done in an open and deliberative manner, in observance of due process guarantees
- The CEC provided comprehensive voter information on voter registration through meetings with voters, videos and print materials, including in national minority and sign languages.

According to the observer delegation of the National Democratic Institute (NDI):

- The Central Election Commission (CEC) fulfilled its administrative responsibilities, carrying out its duties in a timely, efficient, and transparent manner
- Election day generally proceeded in an orderly manner and NDI observers reported mostly transparent and calm processes at visited polling stations
- Polling officials worked diligently over long hours to fulfill their responsibilities.

In addition to positive assessments, statements of international observers contain certain remarks and issues to be considered that require more efforts. The statements also offer valuable recommendations. The aim of the recommendations is to further improve election processes. The election administration plans to consider all important issues when implementing its future activities and to create – within its competencies – relevant conditions to ensure that citizens of Georgia can freely express their will.

ANOTHER INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION OF THE ELECTION ADMINISTRATION OF GEORGIA!

„Election Commission of Georgia and the Georgian history of applying voting as a way of decision making and progress of the society is what makes us – IFES – very proud. Our mission is to ensure that every voice is heard and counted. Georgia – despite its very difficult neighborhood – is an outstanding example of democracy and electoral process in the world”

— William Sweeney, President and CEO,
International Foundation for Electoral Systems (IFES)

(September 12, 2017 meeting with delegation from the Parliament of Georgia).

At the 15th International Symposium on Electoral Affairs the CEC received two awards for Citizen Engagement and Electoral Conflict Management. The international awards were presented to the CEC Chair Tamar Zhvania on December 5, 2017 during a ceremony held in Jordan.

CEC Chair Tamar Zhvania received Joe C. Baxter award for the development of electoral processes. President of the International Foundation for Electoral Systems (IFES) William Sweeney presented the award on October 2, 2017 at an award ceremony held in Washington, DC.

SUMMARY

The present document presents a report of the first and second rounds of Elections of the Representative Body of Municipality – Sakrebulo and Mayor of Self-governing City/Self-governing Community and covers activities implemented by the election administration of Georgia during the pre-election and election periods.

The first chapter of the report covers activities of the election administration implemented during the period from the date of the appointment of the elections until election day. In addition, the chapter describes certain activities carried out during the preparatory stage that significantly contributed to the organization of electoral processes.

Following the August 22, 2017 №22/08/01 decree of the President of Georgia<sup>2</sup> – countersigned by the Prime Minister – elections of the representative body of municipality – Sakrebulo and mayor of self-governing city/self-governing community were appointed. The elections were scheduled for October 21, 2017.

The election administration conducted the electoral process in accordance with the approved schedule of election activities<sup>3</sup>.

A total number of members of district election commissions (DEC) in Georgia was 963, including 380 professional members appointed by the CEC for five year term, 73 – temporary appointees and 510 members appointed by seven qualified political parties.

For October 21, 2017 municipal elections relevant DEC established and defined boundaries of local majoritarian districts. Boundaries of single-mandate majoritarian districts of Tbilisi<sup>4</sup> and other self-governing cities<sup>5</sup> were established and defined by the CEC and published on its website.

A total of 3 644 polling station were opened in Georgia, including 10 special polling stations. 345 polling stations were opened in 12 districts densely populated by ethnic minorities. A total of 47 259 precinct election commission (PEC) members worked in 3 644 polling stations, out of which 21 884 were appointed by DEC and 25 375 – by seven qualified political parties.

Election administration trainers prepared by the LEPL Electoral Systems Development, Reforms and Training Center (the Training Center) ensured capacity building of PEC and DEC members.

In order to improve complaints adjudication process, the election administration updated manuals on electoral disputes and uniform practice and in 2017, for the first time, organized trainings on administrative procedures of electoral disputes for DEC chairs, deputy chairs and lawyers.

3 The schedule of electoral activities is available at <http://cesko.ge/res/docs/GhonisdziebataGrafiki.pdf>

4 The CEC established and defined boundaries of Tbilisi electoral districts by June 27, 2017 №48/2017 decree

5 The CEC established and defined boundaries of single-mandate majoritarian districts of self-governing cities of Rustavi, Kutaisi, Poti and Batumi by July 31, 2017 №89/2017 decree

The CEC, DEC and PEC members throughout Georgia simultaneously signed Code of Ethics – a compilation of main norms of conduct.

The CEC chair registered 28 electoral subjects, including 22 parties, five electoral blocs and one initiative group of voters (for Tbilisi mayoral elections). Five electoral subjects were denied registration/deregistered.

200 initiative groups were registered by DEC, 69 initiative groups of voters were denied registration/deregistered.

13 candidates registered for mayoral race in Tbilisi. 35 candidates were registered for mayoral races in four self-governing cities and 321 mayoral candidates – in 59 self-governing communities.

927 candidates were registered for proportional elections of Tbilisi self-governing body – Sakrebulo, and 247 – majoritarian candidates.

11 975 candidates were registered for proportional elections in 63 self-governing cities and self-governing communities (except Tbilisi) and 4 727 – majoritarian candidates.

For the first round of elections, observers from electoral administrations of 14 countries, five embassies, 581 observers of 11 international observer organizations, 20 619 observers from 71 domestic observer organizations were registered by the CEC and DEC. 82 media were accredited – 4 824 representatives in total. In addition, 57 215 representatives of electoral subjects and 1083 representatives of initiative groups of voters were registered by the CEC and DEC.

Following the initiative of the CEC and with the financial support of the Council of Europe, electronic registration program was developed. 1 232 representatives of 19 electoral subjects registered with the CEC and DEC using the online program. This pilot program considerably eased registration procedures for representatives of the electoral subjects and allowed the election administration to review and check the documents submitted for registration in a timely manner.

Nine<sup>6</sup> of all electoral subjects registered for the elections included at least 30% of different sex in first, second and all other tenth on the proportional list. Four subjects cleared the threshold set by the Paragraph 2, Article 30 of the Organic Law of Georgia on Citizens' Political Unions and are receiving additional 30% of the base funding from the state budget<sup>7</sup>.

The election administration reviewed and updated information on potential voters received from relevant institutions. 3 444 123 voters were registered in the unified voters' list, including 1 849 359 (53.76%) women and 1 590 764 (46.24%) men. Number of voters registered in Tbilisi was 943 423, including 538 695 (57.1%) women and 404 727 (42.9%) men.

6 Electoral subjects that included at least 30% of different sex in first, second and each next tenth: Electoral bloc "Bakradze, Ugulava – European Georgia", electoral bloc "Dimitri Lortkipanidze, Kakha Kukava-Democratic Movement-Free Georgia", electoral bloc "United National Movement", P/U "Republican Party", "Davit Tarkhan-Mouravi, Irma Inashvili - Alliance of Patriots of Georgia", "Leftis Alliance", P/U "Shalva Natelashvili – Labor Party of Georgia", electoral bloc "Giorgi Vashadze – Unity New Georgia", "Freedom – Zviad Gamsakhurdia's Way"

7 Parties receiving additional funding include: P/U Shalva Natelashvili – Labor Party of Georgia, P/U United National Movement, P/U European Georgia, P/U Alliance of Patriots of Georgia

The CEC and the Training center carried out six educational programs for various target groups: “Electoral Development School”, “Election Administrator Courses”, “Elections and young voters”, “Informed young voter”, “Electoral Law” and “Legal Clinic”. A total of 8 723 individuals participated in the educational programs.

The CEC and the Training Center also offered programs on electoral issues to other stakeholders, including: parties participating in the elections, domestic observer organizations, state executive bodies, representatives of local self-governing bodies and regional authorities, judges of administrative college of district, city and appellate courts, potential women candidates, representatives of national and regional media and employees of penitentiary institutions. A total of 781 individuals participated in the programs.

For 2017 municipal elections, in order to increase the electoral capacity of political parties and education/awareness of voters, and in accordance with priority directions identified by the CEC, two grants competitions were held. Based on the decision of the grants commission, the Training Center issued grants to 46 non-governmental organizations. The total amount of grants issued was 2 399 014 GEL.

In order to inform the voters and stakeholders about electoral processes, the CEC implemented informational/image campaign. Video ads and commercial banners were prepared within the campaign. All important information was published on the CEC website in a timely manner. The information was available for the blind and persons with visual impairments.

In order to raise awareness of the voters, the CEC implemented a new project – Talk to Voters. During the first stage of the project, before the elections were called, a total of 347 meetings were held in municipalities and villages with the aim of informing the voters. The second stage of the project – Find Yourself, Find Your Polling Station – was carried out during the election period. The voters had an opportunity to check their data in the unified voters’ list using modern technologies. 991 924 voters used the services offered by the CEC. During the third stage of the project – Get out and vote – flyers containing information on electoral procedures were distributed to the voters. The project was carried out in municipalities and villages across Georgia, including regions densely populated with ethnic minorities, where the flyers were available in Armenian and Azerbaijani languages.

The election administration conducted its activities in accordance with credibility risk management plan and within its powers ensured credibility of democratic elections in the country. In order to promote safe electoral environment, the CEC and the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Georgia (MIA) signed a Memorandum of Cooperation. The parties agreed to conduct joint trainings and workshops. The CEC, Interagency Commission for Free and Fair Elections (IACFF) and ten local non-governmental organizations (NGOs) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on use of administrative resources. One party joined the MoU as well. The signatory parties agreed on the common definition of Articles 45, 48 and 49 of the Election Code.

The CEC signed a Memorandum of Cooperation with Association of World Election Bodies (A-WEB). The parties agreed to cooperate with regard to use of modern electoral technologies.

The second chapter of the report covers activities implemented by the election administration on election day – October 21, 2017 as well as summarization of results of proportional elections for Tbilisi Sakrebulo and Tbilisi mayoral elections by the CEC.

October 21, 2017 election day proceeded in mostly calm environment whereas the voters could freely express their will.

The CEC Chair and Secretary signed the summary protocols for proportional elections for Tbilisi Sakrebulo and Tbilisi mayoral elections.

In addition the CEC appointed the day for the second round mayoral elections in self-governing city of Kutaisi and self-governing communities of Kazbegi, Khashuri, Borjomi, Ozurgeti and Martvili – November 12, 2017.

The third chapter of the report covers activities of the election administration carried out in preparation for the second round mayoral elections in self-governing city/self-governing communities as well as the activities implemented on the day of the second round – November 12, 2017.

The CEC approved schedule of electoral activities for the second round<sup>8</sup>. In addition, DEC members received additional funding to cover costs of the second round.

Based on the decision of the CEC, terms of temporary appointed DEC members in those six electoral districts, where the second round of elections were held, was extended up until the publication of elections results protocols. With regard to the PECs, for the second round the responsibilities were carried out by the relevant PECs established for the first round. For 317 polling stations established in the six electoral districts the total number of PEC members was 4 075, including 2 501 DEC appointed members and 1 574 members appointed by the qualified political parties.

A total of 12 candidates participated in the second round of mayoral elections in self-governing city of Kutaisi and self-governing communities of Kazbegi, Khashuri, Borjomi, Ozurgeti and Martvili, including two candidates nominated by initiative groups of voters.

I. PRE-ELECTION PERIOD

I.I ELECTION SYSTEM AND LEGAL FRAMEWORK

Elections of representative body of municipality – Sakrebulo – were held under proportional and majoritarian systems. For Sakrebulo elections, a voter had one vote for proportional elections and one vote – for majoritarian elections.

Mayors of self-governing cities/self-governing communities were elected through majoritarian system. In certain cases second round of elections was held. In each case a voter could vote for one candidate only.

For October 21, 2017 municipal elections the voters elected following officials for four year term:

- Tbilisi Mayor, mayors of four self-governing cities<sup>10</sup> and mayors of 59 self-governing communities<sup>11</sup>
- 50 members of self-governing body – Sakrebulo – for capital Tbilisi. Out of these, 25 members were elected in single mandate electoral districts and 25 members were elected through proportional elections
- 2008 members of 63 Sakrebulo of self-governing communities and self-governing cities (except Tbilisi). 945 members were elected through proportional elections and 1063 members – through majoritarian system.

The CEC prepared draft amendments to the Organic Law of Georgia on Election Code of Georgia, Citizens' Political Unions and Local Self-Government Code and relevant explanatory notes. The draft was submitted to the parliament of Georgia as a legislative proposal. It should be noted that the majority of the proposals were approved by the legislative body.

Following the enactment of the amendments, the CEC harmonized its acts with the Election Code of Georgia. A document comparing previous and new norms was prepared as well and distributed among representatives of political unions and other electoral stakeholders.

The election administration conducted the elections in accordance with the Constitution of Georgia and Organic Law of Georgia Election Code of Georgia<sup>12</sup>. In addition, during the reporting period, within its powers, the CEC issued 20 normative acts – decrees on electoral and other procedures not covered by the Election Code and other legislative acts.

It should be noted that the CEC representatives actively participated in the meetings of the Inter-agency Commission of Free and Fair Elections (IACFF), whereas they informed the Commission about the activities of the election administration and the ongoing processes.

I.IV ELECTORAL REGISTRATIONS

Registration/deregistration of parties/electoral blocs/initiative groups of voters

38 political unions and one initiative group of voters (for Tbilisi mayoral elections) applied to the CEC for registration for 2017 municipal elections. Two parties were denied registration and three were deregistered based on their own request.

In addition the CEC chair registered 33 political unions and one initiative group of voters. Out of those 22 political unions participated in the elections independently<sup>24</sup>, and 11 electoral subjects united in five electoral blocs.

For 2017 municipal elections 269 initiative groups of voters applied to DEC. Out of those 200 were registered. 69 initiative groups of voters were denied registration/deregistered.

For proportional elections 22 parties and five electoral blocs submitted their party lists to the CEC and DEC.

Electronic registration program

For 2017 municipal elections, following the initiative of the CEC and with the financial support of the Council of Europe, electronic registration program was developed. During the election process the program was working in a pilot mode, allowing electoral subjects to register their representatives at all commission levels. In addition, through the personal online space, the electoral subjects received legal acts and novelties related to election procedures.

This innovative program allowed parties, initiative groups, local and international observer organizations and media to complete registration process through internet, using the electronic registration program.

In order to inform political parties about the innovative service two meetings were held at the CEC. The participants received instructions on how to use the program in addition to printed instructions/rules approved by the CEC.

23 political parties have tested the pilot e-registration program and after formation of the electoral subjects, 19 electoral blocs used the program.

Electoral subjects registered 1 232 representatives through the program: 31 at the CEC level and 1 201 – at DEC level.

Whenever the documents submitted by the electoral subjects for registration did not comply with the law, a message was delivered through the personal online space, allowing electoral subjects to correct the flaw through the electronic registration program. The electoral subjects also used the program to review the documentation submitted to the CEC, legal acts issued by the CEC and other information related to planned electoral activities.

24 The list of registered parties, electoral blocs and initiative group of voters was published on the CEC website in the order of their application to the CEC. In addition the list of parties, whose registration was denied or revoked was also published. List of registered/deregistered political parties/electoral blocs/initiative groups of voters is available in Annex 4

The program has eased the registration procedures for electoral subjects and in addition, the election administration had an opportunity to analyze and review the submitted documentation in a timely manner.

Registration of representatives of electoral subjects

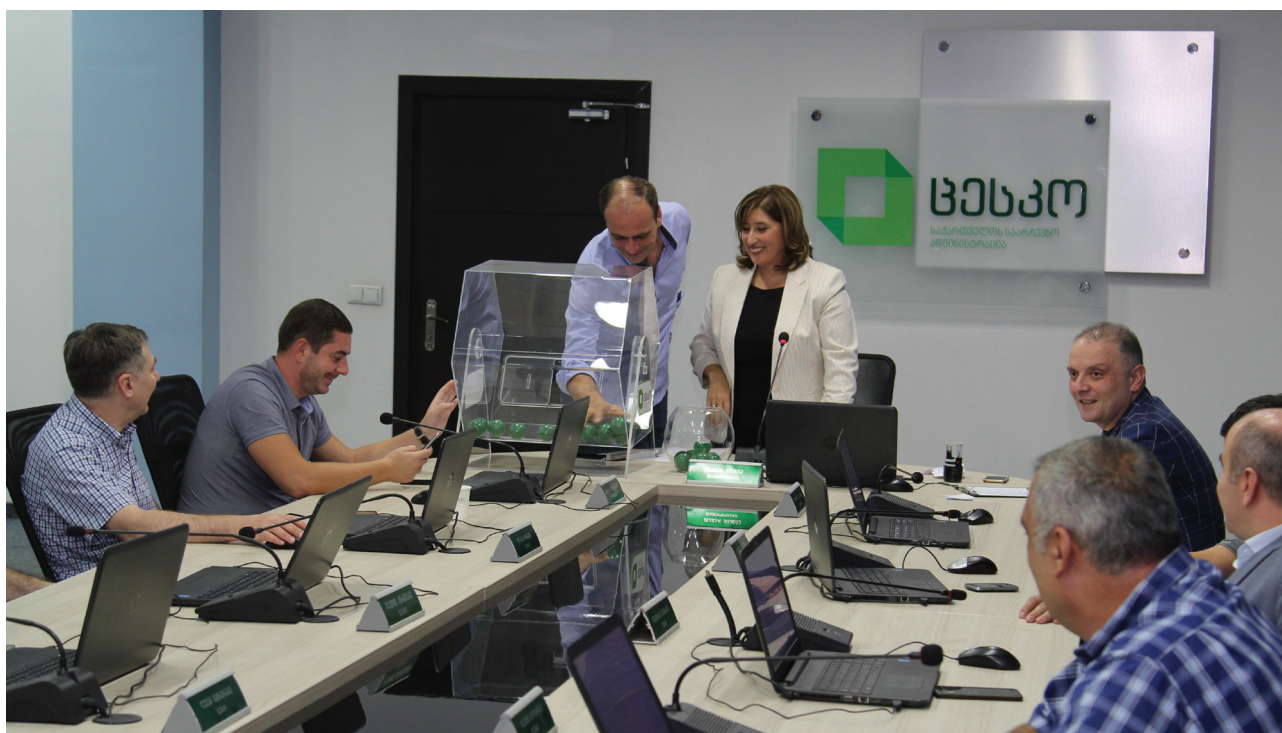

57 215 representatives of 28 electoral subjects were registered for October 21, 2017 municipal elections. 31 were registered at the CEC, 1 143 – at DEC level and 56 082 – at PEC level.

Assignment of electoral numbers to electoral subjects

On September 11, the CEC assigned electoral numbers to electoral subjects. The process was held at the earliest possible date<sup>25</sup> allowed by the law<sup>26</sup> – following the deadline for requesting electoral numbers used during the last parliamentary elections by qualified parties/blocs. The casting of lots was transparent. The process was observed by media and observer organizations.

Out of 28 electoral subjects registered by the CEC, 15 took part in the casting of lots. The rest have applied to the CEC with the request to use numbers assigned during the last elections. As there was only one initiative group of voters registered by the CEC, it did not participate in the casting of lots and was assigned the number automatically by the CEC, in accordance with the law.

In total 27 sequence numbers were assigned. Representatives of electoral subjects invited to the session took the numbers from the box.

Process of casting of lots at the CEC, September 11, 2017

<sup>25</sup> According to the Election Code of Georgia, sequence numbers of electoral subjects are assigned no later than 30 days before elections

<sup>26</sup> The CEC took into account the recommendation of the Public Movement – Multinational Georgia on giving electoral subjects more time to conduct pre-election campaign and inform voters about their sequence numbers

In order to ensure equal electoral environment, DEC assigned sequence numbers to initiative groups of voters within the earliest date possible, without waiting for the deadline prescribed by the law.

Registration of candidates for Sakrebulo, mayoral candidates of self-governing cities/self-governing communities

14 candidates were nominated for Tbilisi Mayor. Out of these, 13 participated in the elections and registration of one candidate was revoked. 35 candidates were registered as candidates for mayors in four self-governing cities and 321 – as candidates for mayors in 59 self-governing communities.

994 candidates were nominated for Tbilisi Sakrebulo for election through proportional system and 247 – majoritarian candidates.

In addition, for 63 Sakrebulo of self-governing cities and self-governing communities (except Tbilisi) 11 975 candidates were nominated through proportional election system and 4 480 candidates through majoritarian election system<sup>27</sup>.

Registration of international and local observer organizations

In order to observe the election process, observers of electoral administrations of 14 countries, five embassies, 581 observers of 11 international organizations, 19 942 observers from 71 local observer organizations were registered. DEC registered 677 representatives of seven domestic observer organizations.

Accreditation of media representatives

4 824 representatives of 82 media organizations were accredited to cover the elections. The CEC accredited 4 615 and DEC – 209 representatives.

In addition, the CEC approved<sup>28</sup> instructions of photo and video recording of sessions of election commissions by persons authorized to be there. The decree regulated procedures related to attending election commission sessions and to filming the sessions during non-election period. This further enhanced transparency of the election process.

I.V UNIFIED VOTERS' LIST

The CEC processed the data provided by Public Services Development Agency (PSDA) of the Ministry of Justice of Georgia, Ministry of Internally Displaced Persons from Occupied Territories, Accommodation and Refugees of Georgia, Ministry of Defence of Georgia, Ministry of Internal Affairs of Georgia, Ministry of Penitentiary and Probation of Georgia, State Security Service of Georgia, Intelligence Service of Georgia, Special State Protection Service of Georgia, Social Services Agency of the Ministry of Labor, Health and Social Protection of Georgia and other relevant agencies in accordance with Article 31 of the Election Code of Georgia.

According to the data, the total number of voters for October 21, 2017 municipal elections was 3 440 123, including 1 849 359 women (53.76%) and 1 590 764 (46.24%) men. In Tbilisi the total number of voters was 943 423, including 538 696 women (57.1%) and 404 727 men (42.9%).

Information on number of voters in each majoritarian district was available on the CEC website<sup>29</sup>. In addition, public version of the unified voters' list was available for all registered parties, electoral blocs, initiative groups, observed organizations and voters as defined by the law.

Verifying personal and family data in the unified voters' list

For 2017 municipal elections the CEC offered the following services to voters to check their personal and family data and find their polling station:

- The unified voters' list with pictures was available at the CEC website (voters.cec.gov.ge), including in Armenian and Azerbaijani languages for voters from regions densely populated with ethnic minorities
- Public version of the unified voters' list was installed on 9 500 quick payment terminals (NOVA, TBC)
- Using special apps for mobile phones and tablets (both Android and iOS)
- PEC members distributed voter cards which allowed voters to verify their personal data.

In order to ensure that every qualified citizen has a possibility to participate in 2017 municipal elections, the CEC addressed the voters numerous times - including those voters deregistered from their place of residence and/or whose registration has been declared void by the Public Service Development Agency of the Ministry of Justice, (PSDA) and voters registered without address.

991 924 voters verified their data using the CEC services, including:

959 160 Via voters.cec.gov.ge

10 680 Via Android App

2 445 Via iOS App

19 639 Via quick payment terminals (NOVA, TBC)

Distance learning program for electoral stakeholders

In order to inform electoral stakeholders and increase electoral awareness, the Training Center updated distance learning program on election day procedures and PEC activities. The program contained tests that allowed users to test their knowledge of electoral issues.

Cooperation with electoral stakeholders

The election administration conducts its activities in accordance with credibility risk management plan and within its powers ensures credibility of democratic elections in the country.

Workshop on issues related to electoral security

On July 26, 2017 with the support of the International Foundation for Electoral Systems (IFES), a workshop on electoral safety was held for officials of the CEC, the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Georgia (MIA) and the Training Center. The parties discussed a memorandum, preventive and training programs necessary to ensure that the elections are conducted in a safe and calm environment.

Memorandum of Cooperation between the CEC and the MIA

To ensure that 2017 municipal elections are conducted in a calm and safe environment, with the support of IFES, the CEC and the MIA signed a memorandum of cooperation<sup>30</sup>. On one hand the memorandum ensured that the elections were conducted in a safe, calm environment and, on the other hand, it defined additional forms of cooperation and relevant framework, such as conducting joint trainings and workshops.

30 For the text of the memorandum of cooperation between the CEC and the MIA see <http://cesko.ge/res/docs/Memorandumi19.09.2017.pdf>

The Training Center updated the training module for members of the election administration that defined forms of effective communication between the election administration and the law-enforcement agencies as well as risk management methods to ensure electoral safety.

In cooperation with IFES and the MIA, the Training Center presented a training module on Electoral Safety to election administration trainers. The trainers then trained DEC and PEC members on this issue.

Memorandum of Cooperation on use of administrative resources for October 21, 2017 municipal elections

The CEC, the Inter-Agency Commission for Free and Fair Elections and ten NGOs signed a memorandum of cooperation<sup>31</sup>. One political party joined the memorandum as well. The signatory parties agreed on the common definition of Articles 45, 48 and 49 of the Election Code and committed to use the definitions provided in the memorandum when it comes to pre-election agitation as well as administrative and court proceedings. The memorandum was elaborated at the workshop with the participation of the election administration and local NGOs. The workshop was supported by IFES. It should be noted that IFES has facilitated signature of similar memorandums over the course of the last few electoral cycles. This ensures equal conditions for stakeholders engaged in the electoral processes.

Signing of the memorandum of cooperation on pre-election agitation and use of administrative resources

Raising awareness of the electoral stakeholders

In order to inform stakeholders on electoral activities, the CEC prepared and on October 16 and 18, 2017 presented interim report on 2017 municipal elections to media, political parties, local and international organizations and diplomatic corps. The interim report covered activities implemented by the election administration during non-election and pre-election periods.

31 The text of the memorandum on pre-election agitation and use of administrative resources is available at <http://cesko.ge/res/docs/Memorandum.pdf>

In order to increase awareness of the voters and stakeholders engaged in the electoral process and ensure transparency and publicity of its activities, the CEC held meetings with target working groups. During the reporting period meetings were held with technical working group (3), task force on persons with disabilities (20), task force on ethnic minorities (2) and gender equality council (1).

The CEC prepared different materials, press releases and newsletters on the activities of the election administration. Those materials were also translated into English language and posted on the CEC website and social media as well as disseminated among the electoral stakeholders.

Meetings with representatives of the diplomatic corps and international experts

In order to ensure maximum transparency and openness of the activities of the election administration, the CEC officials met with representatives of the diplomatic corps and international experts. The CEC provided them with information about activities implemented during the pre-election and election periods, preparedness for elections and electoral environment. During the reporting period the CEC held following meetings:

September 21, 2017 – informational meeting with desk officer of the US Department of State and US Embassy in Georgia

September 18, 2017 – meeting with an expert of the European Parliament

October 9, 2017 – meeting with the Head of the EU Delegation to Georgia

October 20, 2017 – meeting with representatives of the Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of the Council of Europe.

I.VIII GRANT COMPETITIONS

On May 31, 2017 the Training Center announced grants competition for the following priorities approved by the CEC<sup>32</sup>:

First Direction – raising voters' awareness for 2017 municipal elections. 44 NGOs participated in the competition.

The grants commission awarded a total of 14 grants in the amount of 389 892 GEL.

I.IX INFORMATION/IMAGE CAMPAIGN

For October 21, 2017 municipal elections main directions of informational-image campaign related to raising awareness of voters, media relations, informing electoral stakeholders and organization of election related activities. The aim of the campaign was to inform the population about the activities of the election administration and services provided by the election administration to the voters during the pre-election period as well as on election day. Within the new informational/image campaign:

- 14 TV and radio ads were developed and broadcast by national and regional TV channels and radios
- Commercial banners were posted on the websites of national and regional information agencies
- 14 outside banners were installed throughout Georgia.

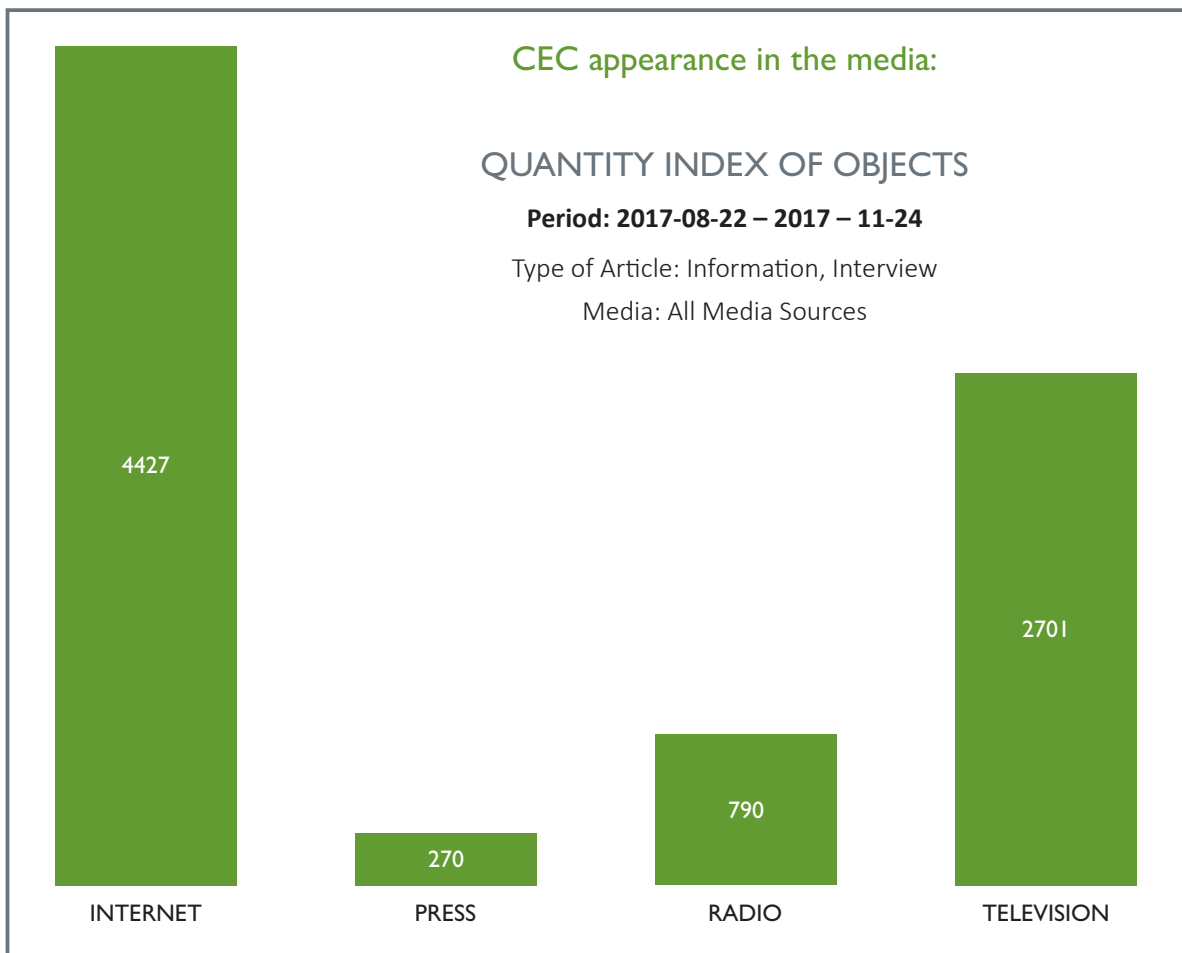

In accordance with the concept of the CEC Information/Image campaign, a new slogan – We Work for You – was developed and used together with the previous one – Democracy Service.

Informational video ads were equipped with sign language. In addition, all electoral materials were translated into Azerbaijani and Armenian languages.

Ana Mikeladze, CEC Spokesperson

The CEC informed all media, all stakeholders and the society about its activities through its website, social networks, media and direct contact with stakeholders. During the reporting period 154 news articles were prepared and posted on the CEC website. Information about 23 CEC sessions was posted on the website and disseminated among the stakeholders as well. Three newsletters were prepared – including in the English language. 31 informational briefings were held. During the reporting period 13 interviews, 140 comments and 8 information statements were broadcast by media on various election issues.

The CEC Call Center

The CEC Call Center provided information on electoral issues to voters and other stakeholders. During the reporting period the center received a total of 9 276 calls, 605 outgoing calls, 1 559 online chat inquiries and 60 short text messages. More than 800 citizens utilized automatic menu service. 82 deaf and hearing impaired voters registered for the new service “video call”.

In total, 12 382 citizens used the services of the Call Center during the reporting period.

CEC Initiative Talk to Voters

From April 2017, the election administration implemented a new initiative – Talk to Voters – to increase the awareness of the population on electoral issues and services offered.

The first stage of the project Talk to Voters took place in 73 electoral districts. 340 DEC members and 491 volunteers participated in the project. A total of 450 meetings were held throughout Georgia, including 347 meetings at places of public gatherings; 103 “Voters’ Days” at DEC; a total of 48 174 citizens were reached through the program and 11 458 citizens completed feedback forms.

In order to encourage voters to check their data in the unified voters’ list and the address of their polling station, the election administration implemented the second stage of the project – Find yourself – Find Your Polling Station. At the places of public gatherings, representatives of the Training Center and the election administration assisted voters to check their and their family’s data in the unified voters’ list. During the campaign, the citizens received specially prepared flyers and other branded materials.

During the second stage of the project the voters checked their data using modern technologies Android and iOS applications, quick payment terminals (NOVA, TBC), tablets). The voters also received informational flyers. In total 991 924 voters utilized the services offered by the CEC.

During the third stage of the project – Come and Vote – flyers describing election procedures were distributed. It should be noted that the project was carried out throughout municipalities and villages across Georgia, including regions densely populated with ethnic minorities. Flyers were also available in Armenian and Azerbaijani languages.

II. FIRST ROUND OF ELECTIONS

II.1 OCTOBER 21, 2017 ELECTION DAY

On October 21, 2017 elections of the municipality representative body – Sakrebulo and mayor of self-governing city/self-governing community were held.

Polling stations opened at 07:00 am on election day and all pre-voting procedures prescribed by the law were followed. All polling stations were fully equipped with necessary equipment and secrecy of vote was ensured. PECs members were dressed in special uniforms.

On October 21 each voter received three ballots at the polling stations:

- A blue ballot – for proportional elections of political party/election bloc
- A pink ballot – for election of a majoritarian member of Sakrebulo
- A light green ballot – for election of a mayor of self-governing city/self-governing community.

IV. PROMOTING INCLUSIVE ELECTORAL ENVIRONMENT

Ethnic minorities

For 2017 municipal elections, 345 polling stations were opened in 12 electoral districts densely populated by ethnic minorities, including: 208 Georgian-Azerbaijani PECs, 133 – Georgian-Armenian PECs and 4 Georgian-Armenian-Azerbaijani PECs.

All informational videos prepared by the CEC – including the video on the services provided – were translated into Azerbaijani and Armenian languages.

Different materials as well as instructions for PEC members translated into Armenian and Azerbaijani languages were available on the CEC website.

The CEC Call Center also provided information in Azerbaijani and Armenian languages.

For election day the unified list of voters (both table and public versions), ballots, instructions on how to complete the ballot, a banner describing voting procedures were published in Armenian and Azerbaijani languages.

Informational meeting with ethnic minority women voters

On September 21 and 22, with the participation of the Training Center, a seminar on “Women’s Needs and Municipal Elections” was held in Marneuli and Akhaltsikhe municipalities. Women participants received information on 2017 municipal elections as well as competencies of local representative body-Sakrebulo and mayors and the role of citizens in the self-government process.

The informational meetings were held under the auspices of the project of East-West Management Institute (EWMI) – ACCESS entitled “Establishing ethnic minority women voters group” which was implemented by Levan Mikeladze Foundation and was financed by United States Agency for International Development, USAID.

Informational meeting with young voters from ethnic minorities

On October 11 and 13, 2017, a meeting with ethnic minority students organized by NGO “The Union of Azerbaijani Women of Georgia” and “Ethnicity and Multiculturalism Research Center” was held at the CEC and the Training Center. The students received information about the importance of elections and role of voters in the election processes. The participants also learned about activities of the election administration implemented to increase engagement and awareness of ethnic minorities for 2017 municipal elections.

Persons with disabilities

Website of the CEC and the Training Center are fully adapted for the blind. The blind could find information on electoral processes as well as voting procedures, adapted polling stations, registered parties/electoral blocs and candidates on the CEC website. In addition they could check their data in the unified voters' list.

For the deaf voters all informational videos prepared by the CEC were accompanied by sign language. The videos were broadcast by national and regional TV stations. On election day the CEC briefings were broadcast accompanied by sign language.

For the first time in 2017, deaf and hearing impaired voters could receive information from the CEC Call/Information Center through video call, with operators using sign language. During the reporting period, 82 individuals registered for the service. Informational campaigns about this service were held in Tbilisi, Telavi, Kutaisi, Zugdidi and Batumi.

The project was implemented in cooperation with the Union of Deaf of Georgia

The CEC updated the training module "Instructions on the Communication etiquette and behavior with persons with disabilities". Information on voting rights of those receiving support was added to the module. The Training Center informed electoral administration trainers about this novelty, who in turn conducted training on these issues for DEC and PEC members.

For 2017 municipal elections, six persons with disabilities were employed by the CEC Call/Information Center. In addition they received intensive trainings.
